1. This memorandum is in response to your requirement dated 17 December 1963, requesting determination of equipment at the reported electronics installations northeast of Hai-Feng, China [REDACTED]

25X1C

2. Photography from [REDACTED] was studied in regard to this requirement. Detailed analysis of the subject area indicates a military installation. Sixty (60) separate areas were observed within the following coordinates 23-10N 115-21E to 23-08N 115N-28E. The installation begins three nautical miles northeast of Hai-Feng and extends for approximately ten nautical miles northeast along the southeast edge of a newly formed reservoir. Of the sixty areas observed forty are believed to be AAA sites.

Due to the large number of buildings throughout the installation, many vehicles, and the great number of AAA sites present, this installation is believed to be a military training school. The following areas are annotated on the attached prints (5x enlargements).

Item

- 1 Four-gun AAA position (occupied). Support area contains 3 barracks/administrative buildings, several other small buildings, and associated electronics facilities.
- 2 Eight-gun AAA position (occupied). Support area contains 9 quonset-type buildings, 6 electronic-type vans, 1 barracks/administrative building, and associated electronics facilities.
- 3 Four-gun AAA position (occupied). Support area contains 7 quonset-type buildings, 5 electronic-type vans, 1 barracks/administrative building, and associated electronics facilities.
